Griff has always had faith in Bentley, just as he did in Joe Boehling. The kid southpaw has at last justified all the good things Griff has predicted for him, and is sure to win many more ball games before the season closes. It was quite a relief to Jearn that the reason why the Athletics hammered Johnson so hard Tuenday afternoon was because Walter did not have his usual stuff. This news is important if true. Speaking of Johnson we might also add that he has had a poor season thus far, but he is still considered the greatest pitcher in either league, and as a drawing card stands second to none. Joe Boehling was out in uniform yesterday and warmed up for an hour or so before the game. The southpaw said that he felt no ill effects from his recent in the properties of the second game of the New York series here this afternoon Griff will work seither Doc Ayers or Joe Engle. Multin started the eighth by sending up a short fly, the pill landing safely between McBride and Milan either of whome could have caught the ball had one of them yelled for the other to get out of the way. Mullin's life was of short duration for he attempted to steal second on a third called strike against Captain Peckinpaugh and was snuffed out. Griffmen Win the Game. The Nationals missed many chances to score runs for lack of hits, little Warhop putting on the screws when danger threatened, but Jack Bentley led the victorious procession which resulted in a run by slashing a hot one through Mullin for a single. Moeller followed with a swat to center, Pete Daley fumbled the ball while Bentley went to third base. Foster filed to Daley and Milan unloaded a single to left scoring the young pitcher. Bentley's support was all that could be	a self-conducted tour to center field, while Ray toddled to the third parapet. Multen found Bentley's right angle smash too toeried to bold, so the Sandy Spring debutante easily got firm on his first cutrance in the third. Several varieties of misplays were displayed by the Metropolitan bunch in the third, enabling our players to gallop around the bases without much effort. In spite of this, only Bentley tallfield. Lipspring of the Hildebrand brand did not sait Capt. McRide when the arbiter called "Mac" out on strikes in the fourth, and so George bast up and told him so. A deliberate case of attempted double purloining by Malsel and Nunamaker in the sinth was frustrated by Gandil's unerting aim that sandfad Nunamaker at the plate. As an infant child dreads fire, so also does Ctyde Milan dread a bump with another player, which probably accounts for 18s stepping when he spied McRide going for Prekinpungh's fly in the eighth, the ball falling between them. John Heury continues to pre players successfully around second. It was peace to pies that Moelier would miss Nunamaker's curving fly in the eighth, but Daniel marathoned to the challs mark and grabbed the sphere sideways. Mike Mitchell's sacrifice fly in the eighth pushed Poster and Morgan up one peg each. Jack Bentley's change of pace was used most effectively yesterday, the Yanks being unable to	Bro

after the present season closes and that either Cleveland or Cincinnati will re-place it in the league. The chances favor Cleveland, where the Wards, bankers of the Brooklyn Federal club, recently purchased a tract of land in the central part of the city that will be suit-able for a ball park.

It is possible that one or two more cities in addition to Kansas City will be dropped at the end of this season and the franchises transferred. The mag-nates in all the cities where the Federals are now operating, with the exeption of Kansas City, want to remain in the circuit, but some of the other magnates feel that the league's inter-ests will be served best by transferring the franchises to other towns.
